

SHIP TEARS BRIDE FROM FORGETFUL HUBBY ON PIER

Philips Fails to Remember
Liner After His Return to Hotel for Mislaid Wallet.

When the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse pulled out from Hoboken today a frantic woman crowded to the rail, waving her hands and screaming. Two deck stewards restrained her and while she struggled with them she cried: "Jimmy! Jimmy! Oh, Jimmy!"

And on the pier was "Jimmy," her husband, and he had the passenger tickets and all the money. A nice situation for a charming bride. "Jimmy" is James W. Philips, a wealthy mining man of Denver, Col. He and his bride arrived here last night and stopped at the Hotel Belmont. Mr. Philips is absent-minded. He will forget to put on his tie and sometimes will put on his tie without the collar. He has been known to go about with a black shoe and a tan shoe.

Before leaving the hotel to-day Mr. Philips took out his pocketbook to make sure he had the tickets. The hotel bill had been paid and he laid the pocketbook on the bureau. Then a taxicab was ordered, and when they were in their cabin they discovered that the pocketbook with the tickets was missing.

Mr. Philips rushed ashore and was taxed in hot haste to the hotel. There was the pocketbook, where he had left it. He piled himself into another taxicab and rushed to Hoboken. The driver asked him the name of the ship, and he had forgotten it.

It was the ship that sailed for Germany, he said, and the driver carried him to the Rotterdam. Men there put him right. He had dismissed his cab, so he dashed for the North German Lloyd's pier. As he ran he heard the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse whistle. When he rushed breathlessly down the pier the liner was moving out in the stream, and there was his bride waving and wringing her hands like a crazy woman. He shouted something to her and began making circles around the pier.

"Stop the ship!" he cried. "Stop the ship! My wife's on board." Officers of the company grasped the situation and hurried Mr. Philips of Denver upon the tug Pollux, which chased the steamer. Wireless messages were sent after the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. The chase lasted all the way down the river, and at Quarantine the liner was overhauled and stopped. Mr. Philips was transferred to the deck and in a few moments his bride was his again.

GIRL KILLED BY CAR IN SCHOOL STRIKE AT PITTSBURGH

Bands of Children Marching
Through Streets in Protest Against Superintendent.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 22.—The first fatality attending the strikes of school children, organized as protests against Supt. S. L. Heeter, occurred this morning when a girl, marching with a hundred or more of her companions in Penn avenue, was run down by a street car and killed.

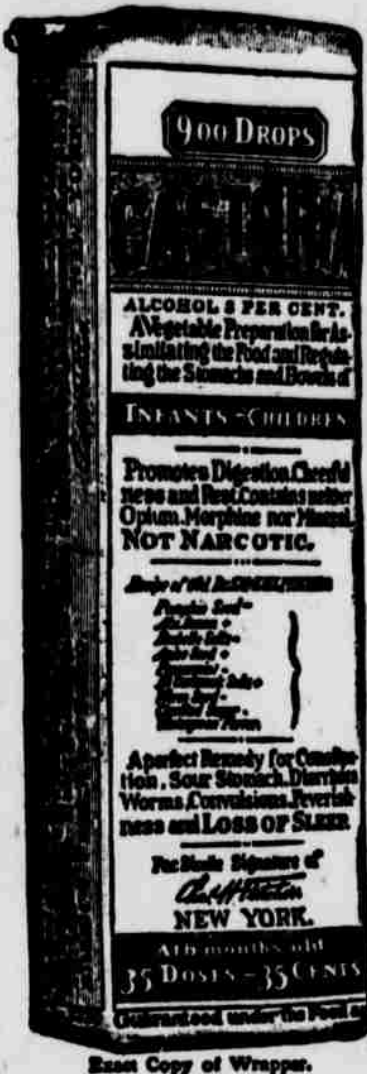

The strikes, which began yesterday, soon after Mr. Heeter, who had been acquitted of serious charges preferred against him by a domestic in his family, had returned to work, spread to a number of school buildings this morning. Reports received from four schools showed that scarcely 25 per cent. of the pupils were in their places, and at other schools the strikers, said to have been encouraged by their parents, endeavored to prevent pupils not in sympathy with the movement from entering the buildings.

In all sections of the city as the day advanced there were repeated calls for additional police, and all night men besides reserves were called out. The strike continues to spread and reports are coming in from school after school that the children have refused to attend the sessions and are parading about the neighborhoods of the school buildings.

Superintendent McQuade, of the police, said this morning that older boys had inspired the movement. President D. B. Oliver of the Board of Education, said "This is an organized and financed movement to down the school board and drive Heeter out."

Harvard Student Kills Himself.
(Special to The Evening World.)
BOSTON, April 22.—Lucien D. Tennant, a Harvard student living at No. 820 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, committed suicide on the West Boston bridge at about 10 o'clock to-day by shooting himself in the head. He came from the mid-West.
